All the above will be supported by the appropriate media and communications plans, in line with the nature of the activity.*

The SAHRC will also participate in collaborative human rights month stakeholder engagements and support/ respond to external requests for outreach initiatives. The practice is that the volume of external requests tends to increase exponentially during March and the offices assess each request based on available resources and commitments. Head office further pro-actively liaises with the broad range of national key stakeholders as part of the Constitutional Rights Education Working Group and the Know Your Constitution campaign in collaborating and participating with stakeholder sectors' issues, rights violations, and cumulatively report on the nature and impact of assistance rendered during March as Human Rights Month.
